Route map

What to expect

- Parking: The Borer's Dog Park lot on York Rd just south of Valley Rd, described by a trip report as free. Tourism Hamilton suggests arriving early or on weekdays and not parking on the roadside if lots are full.
- Ray Lowes Side Trail: Named for Ray Lowes, who first proposed a continuous escarpment trail in 1959. Expect hard-packed dirt with occasional roots and rocks, and some climbing; one writer calls the walk from the dog park toward the falls "an uphill battle." This is a short out-and-back.

- Along the way: A trip report on this side trail mentions the railway bridge over York Rd (trains are frequent), a cut-stone culvert just west of York Rd, and the 1860 Rasberry farmhouse with a leaning stone silo.
- Borer's Falls nearby: The 15 m curtain falls (also called Rock Chapel Falls) is about 30-40 minutes' walk from the dog park, beyond this route. Flow is seasonal and best after rain or in early spring.
- Cautions: Do not cross the active CN rail tracks. Stay on marked trails (the area has rare plants), keep back from slopes and edges, and keep Zappy close. Watch for poison ivy in summer and slippery footing in winter.

Turn-by-turn

| km | mi | Directions |
|---|---|---|
| 0.0 | 0.0 | Start at the parking: Parking at Borer's Dog Park on York Rd just south of Valley Rd (Hopkins Corners) provides.... Head south on the blue-blazed Ray Lowes Side Trail. |
| 1.0 | 0.6 | J1: Turnaround point. The side trail meets the white-blazed main Bruce Trail here. Turn around and retrace your steps. |
