What to expect

- Parking: Lot at 10200 Sixth Line Nassagaweya, giving access to the Hilton Falls Side Trail. This is an out-and-back walk on the blue-blazed side trail, so you retrace your steps to the car.
- Wet ground: A trip report from a Sixth Line start notes the dolomite bedrock here holds water in pools near the surface, and many trees fall in the wet conditions. Expect soggy patches and blowdowns, especially in spring.
- Along the way: The same report mentions a glacial pothole beside the blue trail, an old stone fence through the forest, and a sluice gate controlling the wetlands. It put the scenic route to the falls at about 6 km from Sixth Line.
- Hilton Falls: The falls flow in every season, with stone remains of 19th-century sawmills at the brow and a small stair-access viewing platform. Rocks below the falls are slippery; keep Zappy back from wet rock.
- Busy area: Inside Hilton Falls Conservation Area you may meet mountain bikers and, on some park trails, horses.
