What to expect

- Parking: Roadside parking at the base of the Escarpment on East Linton Rd, at the East Linton Access Trail. Ontario Nature Trails calls the parking limited. There is no fee.
- The Glen: The Sydenham club describes the Glen as a horseshoe-shaped indentation in the Escarpment carved by glaciers. Its cliff tops overlook a wetland that draws waterfowl. From the top, Ontario Nature Trails says the view is "like looking onto a bay of tree tops."
- Frank Holley Side Trail: Rated difficult, with natural and rocky footing. It descends the Escarpment and passes through a series of crevices. Watch for fossils on a rock overhang and a lookout. Take the crevices slowly with Zappy on a short leash, since footing and spacing can be awkward for a dog.
- Walker Homestead Side Trail: A very short spur off the Frank Holley Side Trail. We didn't find a published description of it.
- Main Bruce Trail: The white-blazed main trail links these side trails along the Escarpment.
