What to expect

- Parking: A small Bruce Trail lot about 50 m from the end of Mallory Beach Rd, reached by a rough logging track. Drive slowly. A low-clearance car may struggle.
- Gravelly Point Side Trail: Ontario Nature describes a 4 km side-trail loop from the Mallory Beach Road parking. It follows an old logging road, drops to the Georgian Bay shoreline, and returns to the lot. This appears to be the Gravelly Point Side Trail.
- Shoreline and climb: The reserve has about 4 km of undeveloped shingle beach on Colpoys Bay. It rises more than 110 m from the beach to the top of the escarpment, so expect a real descent and climb.

- Wildlife: Malcolm Bluff Shores is a large, unbroken forest. Black bears and peregrine falcons have been seen here, along with several rare ferns. Keep Zappy close.
