Route map

What to expect

- Parking: Off-road parking on the north side of Glendale Ave, 50 m east of the Welland Canal. No fee or capacity details were found.
- Main Bruce Trail, road sections: Around Glendale the main trail goes through urban St. Catharines. It uses road shoulders and paved paths, and the route crosses the canal on a bridge. Keep Zappy close on these stretches.
- Main Bruce Trail, Old Welland Canal: Off-road, the main trail follows the Third Welland Canal (1887-1931) past its abandoned locks. The lock walls are high with a long drop, so keep away from the edges.
- Bert Lowe Side Trail: An out-and-back on this blue-blazed side trail, which starts from a road section of the main trail. We could not find a published description of its terrain or features.
- Cautions: Nearby on the main trail, signs mark property with sewage lagoons; stay on the marked route. In fall, bird-scaring devices make loud shotgun-like booms that may startle a dog.
- Dogs: Leashed dogs are welcome on the Bruce Trail and its side trails.

Parking options

No other official Bruce Trail parking lies within about 1 km of this route. If you need to stop early, turn back the way you came; the GPS track records what you covered, and the website shows what is left.

Parking costs were checked in October 2026 from operator websites and Bruce Trail Conservancy data; prices and booking rules change, so check before you go.

Distances and junctions are computed from the Bruce Trail Conservancy's trail data (Bruce County GIS). Left/right is calculated from the trail geometry. Use it as a guide, follow the blazes, and check the Conservancy's trail-change notices before you go. Dogs must be leashed everywhere on the Bruce Trail. Trail descriptions draw on Vishwa Walking; details of the Bert Lowe Side Trail were not found.
