What to expect

- Parking: Enter the parking area from Grey Rd 1, about 4.8 km east of Wiarton. Grey Sauble Conservation charges a parking fee in spring, summer and fall; pay online through the GSCA site, or use a GSCA parking membership. The laneway is not maintained in winter.
- Trail to Caves: The GSCA trail leads from the parking area to the caves on a moderate path of compacted soil, packed earth and stone. It is not wheelchair accessible.
- The caves: Sea caves along the escarpment face, carved by the waves of post-glacial Lake Algonquin thousands of years ago. You can also read about Robert Bruce, who once lived on the property.
- Colpoy's Cavern Side Trail: A short Bruce Trail side trail that branches off the caves trail. Specific details on its terrain were not found; expect escarpment rock and forest footing, and take care near the cave openings.
