What to expect

- Parking: Roadside parking on Colpoy's Range Rd. Don't park in the gateway or on the loading ramp. A BTC hike listing calls trailhead parking limited. In 2020, a trip report found the eastern part of Colpoy's Range Rd partly flooded and impassable for ordinary cars, so come from the west if it's wet.
- Slough of Despond Side Trail: An out-and-back on one long side trail, about 11.4 km in total. A BTC hike listing describes the area as relatively flat through fields and forest, with some crevices and "magnificent views of the bay and Slough of Despond."
- Stiles: That BTC loop hike also mentions three stiles with no way around. If you meet stiles, be ready to help Zappy over.
- The Slough: A cattail-fringed wetland that a trip report says was left behind when glacial Lake Algonquin was cut off about 11,000 years ago. From Cole's Sideroad you can look west across it to Esther's Bluff.
- Flooding: In April 2026 the BTC closed the main trail between Big Bay Sideroad and the Colpoy's Range Rd parking because of flooding, then reopened it on April 29. Expect wet ground in spring and after heavy rain.

Parking options

No other official Bruce Trail parking lies within about 1 km of this route. If you need to stop early, turn back the way you came; the GPS track records what you covered, and the website shows what is left.

Parking costs were checked in October 2026 from operator websites and Bruce Trail Conservancy data; prices and booking rules change, so check before you go.

Distances and junctions are computed from the Bruce Trail Conservancy's trail data (Bruce County GIS). Left/right is calculated from the trail geometry. Use it as a guide, follow the blazes, and check the Conservancy's trail-change notices before you go. Dogs must be leashed everywhere on the Bruce Trail. Trail descriptions draw on Bruce Trail Conservancy notices and hike listings and a Holmstrom Ruddick trip report.
