What to expect

- Parking: Small Bruce Trail parking at the end of the Richardson Access Trail, off Forty Hills Rd. No source details were found on capacity or fees.
- Main Bruce Trail: The Peninsula Bruce Trail is typically rocky, with climbs and descents. Keep Zappy close near any cliff edges.
- Side-trail network: The route links the Whippoorwill, Alan Fowler, David Blasing, Reed's Dump, White Bluff and Richardson Side Trails. These are Peninsula Bruce Trail Club side trails in the Forty Hills area, but no specific terrain or feature descriptions were found for them.
- Remoteness: The Peninsula section is described as challenging, often remote hiking, so bring enough water and a map for you and Zappy.

Parking options

No other official Bruce Trail parking lies within about 1 km of this route. If you need to stop early, turn back the way you came; the GPS track records what you covered, and the website shows what is left.

Parking costs were checked in October 2026 from operator websites and Bruce Trail Conservancy data; prices and booking rules change, so check before you go.

Distances and junctions are computed from the Bruce Trail Conservancy's trail data (Bruce County GIS). Left/right is calculated from the trail geometry. Use it as a guide, follow the blazes, and check the Conservancy's trail-change notices before you go. Dogs must be leashed everywhere on the Bruce Trail. Information on these side trails was limited; general notes draw on Hiking Project and Bruce Peninsula Press.
